

GRATITUDE.
GIVE.
GROW.

GENEROUS LEADER

The Return on Investing in Others

How corporate leaders can create workplaces where wins are celebrated, employees are invested in success, and colleagues can look to the leader as an example.

This program will help participants understand how generosity toward others at work contributes to the a culture of inclusion, belonging and pride.

> BENEFITS OF GENEROUS LEADER FOR YOUR ORGANIZATION

Participants will be reminded that they are not alone. Giving is essential to effective and productive cultures. They will be encouraged to notice and express appreciation and will gain the benefits of gratitude. Each person will consider how small favors matter.

With loneliness on the rise, let's create a culture of inclusion where all experience levels, behavioral styles, backgrounds, ethnicities, gender, sexual orientation and preferences belong. Let's make it happen and gain the intrinsic and extrinsic rewards of generosity.

> Organizations are collections of teams and teams are groups of talented people working together on a set of goals for a deliberate purpose. Each individual and team is measured on success of achieving the goals; winning. What if winning meant everyone contributed, not only to the outcome but each other? What if we rewarded, encouraged and enabled more connection and support between colleagues and associated? It would not only make work more fun, it will improve the bottom line,

> To receive the value of a being a Generous Leader for yourself, your team, company, community and beyond we've designed this keynote to focus on the essential things to give in order to have the rewards.

GENEROUS LEADER WILL SHARE:

- Learn about mindfulness and focus
- Understand the Syntax for Success
- Science and Benefits of Gratitude
- Why gratitude is essential at work
- The choice to help
- Two-minute favors
- Why inclusion and belonging matter
- The value of a purposeful culture of generosity

> DELIVERY OPTIONS: keynote, workshop, team building, webinar